THEY TAKE A REST

Commission Will Count No More Until Jan. 2.

THE COURTS SO DECIDE.

The Newspaper Reporters Will Not Be Privileged Hereafter to Attend the Sessions of the Commission—John Henry Smiths Blandly on the Commission.The Utah commission has adjourned until January 2, 1895, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.Roman Cannon, armed with a writ of prohibition on behalf of Robert McFarland and James Kimball, of Weber, did it. The commission being enjoined from opening ballot boxes in order to get a straight canvass decided to accept the judicial determination of the courts.All the members of the commission were on hand at 10 o'clock yesterday, except Chairman Letcher who was a few moments tardy. Pending his arrival John Henry Smith, the great defeated, dropped in, accompanied by a sweet, sad smile and engaged in a discussion with Commissioner Thatcher on the future possibilities of electricity and the best means of reducing flesh.Having finished his anti-fat dissertation, Mr. Smith turned his attention to matters political and, addressing his audience in an informal way, remarked that in affairs of this kind he disliked to see anything of a nature which might be construed as approaching gerrymandering or fraudulent proceeding. All of which was delivered in so serious a tone that a casual listener would have readily believed the speaker in earnest.Mr. Smith had just concluded an assertion to the effect that his heartfelt belief was that every action in life has its compensation, when Mr. Letcher's bright and sunny face passed the hotel.After opening the mail the chair at 10:50, called the meeting to order whereat Judge Norrell remarked that the writs from the Third District court would prevent any further opening of ballot boxes from the third precinct.Chairman Letcher then moved that the chairman if anything further would be done in his case, to which a negative reply was returned.
Mr. Smith then showed another of his bland smiles upon the board and softly wended his ruminating way down town. The board then went into the matter of finishing the canvass of the county of San Juan.Owing to the absence of the books and tally sheets from La Salle precinct and the lists from Indian Creek and McElmo, San Juan county, the canvass was passed. The returns indicated the election of F. A. Hammond (dem.), as far as the count has progressed.The canvass of the returns from Utah county was then resumed. Johnson, democrat, is elected.At 11 o'clock Judge Miner, attorney for Robert McFarland and James Kimball, republican candidates for the constitutional convention from Weber, came in and served notice on the commission that it must not open the ballot boxes from any precinct in Weber county, or a writ of prohibition would be applied for. The notice was in the usual form.Commissioner Sherman moved that the request be granted. The motion was lost. Ayes—Tatlock, Sherman—2.
Noes—Norrell, Thatcher, Letcher—3.Commissioner Norrell moved the exclusion of all persons from the room with the exception of candidates or their representatives, in pursuance with the provisions of the statute.
This motion met with no second.Judge Tatlock then offered the following:"That if any ballot boxes from any part of Weber county are to be opened and a recount of the ballots in said boxes is to be taken that said recount be taken with open coors."This was seconded by Mr. Sherman.
Judge Norrell offered as a substitute that in canvassing the ballots contained in any ballot box by the commission only such persons shall be permitted in the chamber during the count as designated by law.Ayes—Norrell, Thatcher, Letcher—3.
Noes—Tatlock, Sherman—2.The reporters were invited to withdraw. They did.The board then proceeded to open the box from Utah precinct, Weber county, Messrs. Tatlock and Sherman refusing to participate in the re count. They, however, kept a tally of the votes, which agreed with the judge's returns.After completing the count of this box the board took a recess until 2 o'clock.At that hour Deputy Marshal Cannon appeared with two writs of prohibition in behalf of Robert McFarland and James Kimball, of Weber, returnable December 31st.The commission obeyed the mandate of the court, quit canvassing and adjourned until January 2, 1895, at 10 o'clock.

NOTES.

As regards the election of constitutional delegates, no certificates of election will be issued until after the court has passed upon the pending writs of mandate and prohibition. The commission has as yet declared no official returns.Clerk W. H. Lett and Dewey Richards yesterday completed the work of mailing certificates of election in duplicate to the successful candidates throughout the territory.The ballot box from Slaterville precinct, Weber county, was yesterday received at the commission office.Clerk Blair is busy, and will continue so for a day or so more, in forwarding checks to the various registrars and deputy registrars in the various counties. They will come in very handy as Christmas expenses.On request of Deputy Marshal Exam of Ogden, the boxes from poll 2 of the Third Ogden precinct and poll 1 and 2 of the Second Ogden precinct were yesterday forwarded to the Junction city for use in the grand jury investigation now pending there.

A COLORADO CRIMINAL

And a Jail Breaker Surrenders Himself to the San Francisco Officers Because He Wants to See His Old Mother.SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19.—Ted Newell, a young Colorado desperado who in October last broke jail in Denver, where he was incarcerated under charges of train wrecking, highway robbery, burglary and assault to murder, surrendered himself to the San Francisco police today.Newell first went to the county jail and offered to surrender himself, but was sent out to police headquarters. Then he went to Captain Lees's office, told who he was, and was immediately locked up.In October last Newell was in the county jail at Denver on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. He had shot a man and seriously injured him.
On the night of October 10th, Newell, with James Bartlett, alias Whitney, and Frank Murray, two petty criminals, escaped from the county jail. That same night, and soon after the escape, an attempt was made to wreck a Santa Fe train near Denver.Several burglaries and robberies were committed in the same neighborhood and the crimes were laid to the escapes. The authorities made an active search for the criminals and captured Bartlett and Murray. They confessed the crime, and it is believed they implicated Newell. The Denver authorities have been very anxious to catch him and flooded this country with descriptive circulars.For a month Newell has been working at odd jobs, and has been charged to him, except the fact that he is willing to stand trial for that. As to the charge of jail breaking, he says he saw the hole in the jail and crawled out."The reason I surrender," he explained, "is that my poor old mother is in Denver, and I want to see her before she dies."The police have already communicated with the Denver authorities, and request papers will be sent out immediately.

JOHN BOYD THACHER A WITNESS.

He Fully Verifies a Disputed World's Fair Award.John Boyd Thacher is laconic and decisive in his statements. During the lively campaign just closed in New York, this marked him especially as chairman of the Democratic State committee. It was equally true of him as chairman of the Executive Committee on Awards at the World's Fair. This is the positive and sensational way in which he verifies in an official letter, the honors won by Dr. Price's Baking Powder. "I herewith enclose you an official copy of your award, which in due time will be inscribed in the diploma and forwarded." Thus the question respecting the award, raised by an envious New York rival, is settled beyond cavil. This same rival by the way is widely advertising an award for itself. The official records prove this claim wholly false as they show the New York pretender was not so much as an exhibitor at the World's Fair.Women have been potent political factors at the late election in five states.
In Colorado, Wyoming, Kentucky, Illinois and New York they have turned the political scale. Yet in Kansas and New York woman suffrage has just been defeated, in part, by Republican votes. Of woman in this election it may be said, as was said of her great exemplar: "She saved others. Herself she could not save." But parties, like individuals, in the long run become the prey of their own interests. Women are the predestined saviors of our free institutions, and society for its own protection will soon arm them with the ballot.—Boston Woman's Journal.

CROMWELL AND HIS HORSES.

An Accident That Befell the Protector While Driving in Hyde Park.C. H. Firth, in an article on Oliver Cromwell's association with horses, says in Macmillan's Magazine:"As Cromwell rose in power and rank his love of horses began to be more conspicuous. When he started from London in 1649 to reconquer Ireland, he went forth in that state and equipped as the like hath hardly been seen himself in a coach with six gallant Flanders mares, reddish gray." In 1655, when the Spanish ambassador took his leave of the lord protector, Cromwell sent him "his own coach of six white horses" to convey him to and from Whitehall. "Certainly it is," adds the narrator, "that none of the English kings had ever any such."The protector was not much of a whip, however. In 1654 the Count of Oldenburg sent Cromwell a present of six horses, and the protector's anxiety to make trial of their quality led to his well known adventure in Hyde park. On Friday, Sept. 20, he went with Secretary Thurloe and some of his gentlemen to take air in the park, ordered the six horses to be harnessed to his coach, put Thurloe inside of it and undertook to drive himself. "His highness," said a letter from the Dutch ambassador, "drove pretty handsomely for some time, but at last, provoking those horses too much with the whip, they grew unruly, whereby his highness was flung out of the coach box upon the ground. His foot getting hold in the tackling, he was carried away a good while in that posture, but at last he got his foot clear, and so came to escape. He was presently brought home, and let blood, and after some rest taken is now well again. The secretary, being hurt on his ankle with leaping out of the coach, hath been forced to keep his chamber hitherto and been unfit for any business."The royalist Scroggs, afterward chief Justice, writing of this incident, hoped that the next fall would be from a cart. As to Cromwell's views on the starting question of horse racing, it is difficult to arrive at a positive conclusion. His constant aim was to possess as many good horses as he could afford. Whether he entered his horses for races or had the satisfaction of owning a winner history does not say.

Speed of Electricity.

The fact is generally known that, according to the experiments of the late Professor Heinrich Hertz at Bonn, the velocity with which electricity is propagated is nearly identical with the velocity of light. The identity may be perfect, but experiments have as yet failed to prove it so.In a recent communication to the French Academy of Sciences, M. Mascart has shown that the mean velocity of electricity, as deduced from experiments, is 186,185 miles per second. This is about 1 per cent greater than the velocity of light, which is 186,300 miles per second.It is believed that if light and electricity do move with exactly the same speed the velocity ascribed to light more closely represents that speed than the velocity ascribed to electricity, because the experiments are most satisfactory and probably more accurate in the case of light.—Youth's Companion.Miss Frances E. Willard, in her recent address at Cincinnati, quoted with approval the Sunday school scholar who said that Eve was made out of Adam's "backbone." No wonder Miss Willard believes in women in politics.—Outlook.

tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fever, and permanently curing constipation.
It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is man-
